We know what you're up against.

Impossible deadlines. Increased demands. Faster cycles and squeezed schedules. Reports.... and even more reports.

You need training services, you need them now, and they need to seamlessly integrate with your business. Of course, your services also need to fit within your ever-shrinking budget. Being a training professional today means you're at the epicenter of the rapidly-changing, competitive swirl of modern business.

Relax. TrainingPage.com has your answers.

ABOUT US

We began TrainingPage.com nearly a decade ago with one goal: to provide a single, integrated source for IT training. Since then, we have provided training facilitation for more than one half-million students worldwide.

TrainingPage.com provides cost-effective solutions to help you meet both operational requirements and budget constraints. Furthermore, we deliver consistent quality with unparalleled management capabilities, including a broad range of flexible options and powerful reporting tools.

INVISIBLE INTEGRATION

We're more than a vendor. TrainingPage.com works to integrate seamlessly with your team, transparently becoming both an extension of your business and your training advocate.

TrainingPage.com handles the details so you can focus on what you do best. With TrainingPage.com the red tape, the wrangling over multiple contracts and the frustration of juggling multiple vendors melts away.

No matter what type of IT training you need, we can provide it. We offer certified training from major vendors like IBM, Sun, Microsoft and many others. Additionally, all courses are customizable and can be delivered wherever you need them. It's all in one place: TrainingPage.com.

REDEFINING VENDOR MANAGEMENT

Since our inception, we have worked hard to build strong partnerships with the world's leading technology and training companies. As a result, TrainingPage.com can offer you a uniquely unified view of virtually every major IT training course available.

We also provide a full range of services to facilitate your training program including:

- IT Technical Training
- End User / Desktop Application Training
- Worldwide Training Facility Rentals
- Help Desk Support Staffing
- Customized Application Development
- Online Reporting and Tracking Tools
- Just-in-Time Training
- Travel Services for Students

With TrainingPage, you can manage and track enrollments and training online anytime via your web browser. Along with our extensive course catalog listings, our tools include an online enrollment work-order interface and an executive portal with robust, yet flexible reporting capabilities.

Furthermore, you can track pending and completed training with our easily customized tool...and you can use this even for classes we don't facilitate for you!
